Labor Council Takes Civic Step To Build YWCA Here

UNIONS, CONTRACTORS TO BUILD YWCA ANNEX — Unions and contractors in the area today revealed plans for supplying labor without cost and materials at cost for the erection of the YWCA building on N. Lincoln Ave. Winding up details for the joint project, in the above picture, are (l. to r.): John Kelly of Lisbon, business representative of the Columbiana County Building Trades Council, and John Hollinger of Salem, president of the County Builders Association.

Laborers To Serve Without Compensation

Materials Will Be At Cost; 'Y' Leaders Hail Announcement

Completion of the YWCA building program was ensured today following an announcement that the labor will be supplied gratis and the materials furnished at cost for construction of the proposed YW building.

Union members of the Columbiana County Building Trades Council and Columbiana County Builders Association members, as well as area suppliers and sub-contractors, have announced they will execute the work as a community service project.

The idea that labor and the suppliers work together on completing the YW building, what they believe to be a civic need, was first devised several weeks ago. Since that time, labor and contractors have met in individual sessions to discuss the merits and magnitude of the proposal.

Active In Arrangements

Following the individual meetings, representatives of both groups joined in a series of combined meetings, formulating a plan under the coordination of Howard E. Firestone, YW advisory board member, through John Kelly of Lisbon, County Building Trades Council business representative, and John Hollinger of Salem, president of the County Builders Association.

Membership in the County Building Trades Council includes men working in the fields of plumbing, painting, excavating, carpentry, masonry, cement finishing, plastering, steelwork, electrical, heating, roofing and floor covering, among others.

Union Spokesman Kelly declared: "The Building Trades Council and its union members are happy to have this opportunity to share in a community effort which we feel will be of increasing value to the ladies of the greater Salem area in the years to come. Community effort is the responsibility of us all."

From the contractors, represented by Hollinger, came this statement: "The contractors are back of this project 100 per cent! We realize the need for community-wide enterprises and we wish to indicate to everyone that contractors are an integral part of the community and community life."

Leaders Are Grateful

Speaking for the 1,400 YW members, Mrs. Frank Brian, president, stated: "This commendable gesture is sure to make our dream of a YW building evolve into a reality! We deeply appreciate the hours which these men will be giving us to complete our home which will make Salem proud and which will reap benefits for the women and children of Salem and the surrounding communities."

YW Fund Campaign Chairman Harold Smith said "As chairman of the YWCA drive and the 1,400 members, we wish to express our appreciation for the cooperation of the Building Trades Council with Mr. Kelly as business representative and the County Builders Association with Mr. Hollinger as president and all participating."

Lightning Kills 2 Gls, Injures 48

Electrical Storm Strikes Army Base

FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—Lightning struck twice within 10 minutes, killed two National Guardsmen and knocked over soldiers "like bowling pins" on this Army paratrooper base Wednesday night.

The base hospital called in off-duty personnel to handle the 48 patients who poured in for treatment for five or six hours after the fierce electrical storm swept across Ft. Bragg. Field aid stations gave first aid treatment on the spot.

The Army identified the victims as Sgt. I.C. Walter Lee Milam, 26, and PFC Arthur Belton Norris Jr., 19, both of Kannapolis, N.C.

Units of the 30th (Old Hickory) Division of the North Carolina National Guard bore the brunt of the storm's attack. The 8,000 Tar Heel guardsmen were encamped for summer training in a wooded area 10 miles west of the main portion of the base.

Striking at supertime, the lightning skipped around the bivouac area as many of the soldiers stood in chow line, mess kits in hand.

"The men in front of me were knocked down like bowling pins," one soldier said. "My metal mess gear was wrenched from my hand and bent all out of shape."

Another recalled, "The ground shook something terrible and my feet felt like the ground was sizzling—just burning up."

After the first flash, one guardsman removed his boots to see if his feet were injured. "I just put my bare foot on the wet ground when another bolt struck like the first one," he said. "I was knocked to the ground along with other people in the tent."

An Army spokesman said four of the injured were admitted to the hospital as patients, none seriously hurt. The other injured remained in the hospital overnight to catch up on their sleep before returning to their units.

More than three miles from the center of the storm damage one soldier was talking on a field telephone. A jolt of electricity threw him completely across a large tent.

'No Change In Policy,' Is Stressed By White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today the United States is prepared to accept suspension of atomic weapons tests only under a first-step disarmament agreement providing also for halting production of nuclear weapons.

President Eisenhower had created the impression at a news conference Wednesday that the United States might have reversed its policy on banning tests and might be about to accept a Russian proposal for a test moratorium separated from other major disarmament proposals.

No Change In Policy

A few hours later, however, the White House explained that the President "did not imply and it was not intended to imply that we would consider suspension of tests in isolation" from other arms control considerations.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said there had been no change in policy. The President's replies to questions on disarmament caused a stir because two weeks ago he had said the United States could end tests only on assurance that atomic weapons would not be used in future warfare. The measure of this assurance has been widely regarded in Washington as an agreement to stop the production of such weapons and to begin the reduction of atomic weapons stockpiles.

Eisenhower was asked about a week-old Soviet proposal for a two-or three-year moratorium on test explosions, along with establishment of an international commission to manage the agreement and an inspection system to police it.

"These are hopeful signs, as I see them, and they deserve the most earnest and sympathetic study," the President said. He added that the United States wanted to know all the details because "generalization is one thing, to see how it works is another."

Then, in response to a series

Petition Calls Judge's Decision 'Clearly Wrong'

Urges Supreme Court Act At Earliest Convenient Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department today appealed to the Supreme Court from a decision barring the government from surrendering GI William S. Girard to the Japanese for trial.

A petition to the nation's highest court said the decision by U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarrity was "clearly wrong."

The petition said the "public interest in an early disposition of the case" is so great that the high tribunal should act at the earliest convenient date.

The petition was signed by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and Solicitor J. Lee Rankin.

The decision to go directly to the Supreme Court came after lengthy conferences between Justice and Defense Department officials over the government's next step in the case of the soldier accused of killing a Japanese woman.

Planned To Adjourn

The Supreme Court has planned to adjourn for the summer next Monday, and Justice Douglas already has left Washington.

By implication, there was a request in the petition for the high court to handle the case before taking its recess.

The petition noted that an appeal had been filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals here, but said the government wished the Supreme Court to take the case at once so that an early final decision may be had.

"Otherwise," the petition said, "the overwhelming likelihood is that the United States will be unable to fulfill its commitment to Japan for several trying months, even though the Japanese government is very desirous of holding respondent's (Girard's) trial without delay and expects him to be turned over promptly."

The Justice Department petition added:

"We firmly believe that, despite the district court's ruling, respondent

Dulles, Japanese Minister Confer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan's Prime Minister Kishi and Secretary of State Dulles buckle down today to intensive marathon talks aimed at creating a "new era" in Japanese-American relations.

Kishi will also address the Senate and House today.

He told Japanese newsmen in an embassy news conference Wednesday night he was highly satisfied with his first meeting with President Eisenhower Wednesday.

The two leaders conferred, lunched and golfed together for almost six hours.

Kishi said the opening talks with the President laid down broad general principles. His meetings with Dulles would follow the framework of these principles in ironing out specific problems.

Neither U.S. nor Japanese officials would say what the talks dealt with specifically, but it was acknowledged that the whole range of policy issues was explored.

This meant more than a dozen topics from trade with Communist China to revision of the mutual security treaty between Japan and the United States had been touched upon.

6 Plead Guilty At Arraignment

Judge Buzzard Gives 3 Reformatory Terms

LISBON — At arraignment hearings Thursday morning before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court, Basil Mangano of East Liverpool, an auto dealer, pleaded not guilty to one indictment of retail sales violation, and bond was set at $500.

Two previous indictments against him were quashed by Judge Buzzard who placed him under bond until corrections were made in the indictment forms.

Nine other defendants indicted by the recalled April Grand Jury entered pleas.

Three pleaded guilty and were sentenced, three pleaded guilty and asked for probation and three pleaded not guilty.

Pleading not guilty were: Robert E. Barnes, 21, and Charles Barnes, 18, of Indiana, forgery in Lisbon, bond set for each at $1,000; Olin H. Dority, 35, of Chattanooga, Tenn., forgery in East Liverpool, bond set at $1,000.

Pleading guilty and asking for immediate sentencing were:

Robert Lee Cutler, 23, of Baltimore, two counts of burglary at the Arrow Hardware, a service

Egypt Warned Not To Blockade Aqaba

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel warned Egypt Wednesday night against trying to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba with three submarines newly acquired from the Soviet Union.

A government broadcast said beamed to Egypt said use of the subs to cut off ships from the southern Israeli port of Eilat, at the head of the gulf, would be "lighting the fires" leading to Egyptian suicide.

Egypt confirmed Tuesday she had bought the submarines and they had joined her fleet in Egyptian waters. They are believed to be the first undersea craft acquired by any Middle Eastern country.

Israel feared they would be used to reimpose the blockade of Eilat, which Israeli troops ended last fall by destroying the Egyptian shore guns overlooking the Gulf of Aqaba. The gun positions are now occupied by troops of the U.N. Emergency Force.

Ships now operate through the gulf to and from Eilat without interference, despite protests from Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan that the gulf is Arab territorial water.

Protest 'Legislative Lynching Bee' Southern Senators Rap Civil Rights 'Short Cut'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern senators protesting what they called "a legislative lynching bee" fought today against a parliamentary short-cut in handling the House-passed civil rights bill.

But Republican leader Knowland of California predicted the Senate would back him in a move to bypass the Senate Judiciary Committee, where a companion measure has languished for months, and vote to put the House bill directly on the calendar.

If this maneuver succeeds, the legislation will be in a position where any senator can move at any time to call it up for a vote.

Knowland plans to employ a seldom-used Senate rule under which he contends a House-passed bill can be placed on the Senate's legislative calendar without being referred to committee.

But Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Southern opposition, maintains that under the Congressional Reorganization Act all House bills must be sent to committee before being brought up for action in the Senate.

Russell and other Southern senators have protested that, if successful, the bypass move would mark the start of a "legislative lynching bee."

Knowland said he didn't know whether Vice President Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, would make a ruling on the issue or simply

Play School For Children Is Planned

Registration will begin Friday for a new play school, a recreation program set up for children from age three through six years of age, at the Memorial Building. The school opens Monday.

Lee A. Burton, superintendent of parks and playgrounds, points out that the school is not a nursery, but one set aside with creative play activities for children.

The play school will be held at the Memorial Building from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Registration fees for the school are $1 per week per child. If a child desires to attend both morning and afternoon sessions, the fee is then $2 per week per child, Burton said.

The money will be used to pay the instructors and to purchase snacks for the children.

Parents will be obligated to furnish transportation to and from the building for their children. Burton says that over $300 has been spent in new equipment for the school.

The instructor will be Miss Sara E. Scullion of 445 E. 7th St., with her assistants being Mrs. Gordon Bennett of 666 N. Ellsworth Ave. and Marilyn Schaeffer of 194 W. 7th St.

Parents may register children by calling ED 2-5512 or stopping at the Memorial Building from 9 a.m. to noon tomorrow.

6 Children Hurt By Dynamite Cap

EAST LIVERPOOL — Six youngsters ranging in age from 4 to 14 were injured late Wednesday afternoon in East End by an explosion touched off when they hooked a dry cell battery onto the wires of an electric dynamite detonator.

Most seriously hurt was Ricky Hughes, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hughes of Dewey Ave., who is in good condition today at City Hospital with puncture wounds of the face, right arm, chest and abdomen.

The others, all released after treatment at the hospital, are: Richard Galloway, 10, and Vicki Galloway, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Galloway, Anita Parsons, 13, of Industry, Pa., who was visiting her grandmother nearby; Jack Hughes, 4, brother of Ricky, and David Vincent, 14, of Cleveland, who was visiting relatives here.

Parents said Richard Galloway was holding the electric detonator when the two wires leading from it were touched to the battery by the Cleveland boy. The four other children had been attracted by the experimentation with the dynamite detonator. The blast took place on the back porch at a home where the children were playing.

Ikirt Bantams Steal The Show

Leetonian Succeeds In Breeding Hobby

By LOIS WHITE

LEETONIA — The breeding of perfect Cochins Bantams is one which requires an intensive knowledge of the "how to's" in the breeding field, knowledge which Raymond Ikirt of 425 Columbia St., has used to make him an outstanding breeder in the miniature fowl.

Ikirt's success with the sleek, black Cochins reached a climax this spring at the Buckeye Fancy Feathers Club showing when he copped trophies for Grand Champion Bantam of the state as well as Champion Cochins of Show.

The Buckeye Fancy Feathers Club, one of three groups relating breeding in which Ikirt is active, has members mainly from Ohio, Pennsylvania and North Carolina, although membership is extended throughout the United States. In the show this year, held June 8 at the Canfield Fairgrounds, the Leetonian man also received awards for fourth cock and second hen in the black Cochins Bantam class.

IKIRT, WHO IS A life member of the American Poultry Association and affiliated with the American Bantam Association, has had as a hobby a lifetime of raising one type of bantams or another. Originally his main interest lay in the Silver Spangled Hamburgs, but the Cochins today is his favored type.

Beginning from "scratch" a few years ago following an illness when he discarded all his Bantams, the Cochins breeder has maintained his reputation as an outstanding breeder since then, with hundreds of persons coming each year from cities the United States over.

Breeding of a Cochins, a champion, that is, is not as simple as it might seem to one unacquainted with fowl: The comb must grow a certain way, the animal's head must be of a certain size in conformity with the rest of his body, the feathers must be a certain width and must be a deep black, a color which gives the animal a lovely greenish-black hue. Feathers must grow in a clump on the outside of the fowl's feet but never on the inside, his tail must fluff fan-like, and when quickly placed down it must assume a certain sitting posture which identifies a champ from a mediocre bird.

THESE GOOD POINTS, Ikirt says, are a necessity for entry in any show, at least where the owner hopes to gain some reknown, for on the qualifications approved by judges is based the reputation of the breeder.

Ikirt has traveled to shows in Cleveland, Richmond, Troy, Wooster, and Defiance among other cities and towns.

His awards go as far back as Jan. 6, 1913, a year after he began his hobby. It was then that he received an award for best bird in class for Silver Spangled Hamburgs in the Lisbon Poultry Association show.

Since 1912 when he first began breeding bantams, Ikirt has received over 300 awards and trophies. A few include the Ohio National Poultry Show trophy in 1941, the Cleveland Poultry Show award for best of variety in 1947, the Madison Square Garden Show award, and the Ohio all-Bantam class for best of variety at Defiance, both in 1950 and 1951.

Three Teen-Agers Take Ohio River Voyage

Axle Mile Tax Upheld By Supreme Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 1953 axle mile tax on trucks with three axles or more has been ruled constitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The 15 million dollar a year tax, first levied Oct. 1, 1953, was declared valid in a unanimous high court decision Wednesday. The tax was designed to help finance the state's highway construction program through issuance of bonds.

Challenging the tax was the George F. Alger Co., a Michigan firm operating trucks in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. The company appealed a ruling by the Board of Tax Appeals upholding the tax against Alger. The Supreme Court's decision upheld the Board of Tax Appeals.

The tax ranges from one half cent a mile for trucks with three axles, to 2 1/2 cents a mile on tandem rigs.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Trench Mouth

Mrs. E. P. and B.J. have recently asked for a discussion of the disorder known as trench mouth or Vincent's infection. Mrs. P. added that for the past four years it has been present in several members of her family.

This is not uncommon and in wartime, for example, when many soldiers were crowded together, perhaps in weakened general health, and exposed to severe weather, trench mouth often caused a great deal of difficulty.

This is a rather extraordinary condition since two microbes are almost always found: a cork-screw like one known as Vincent's spirillum and a germ shaped something like a dumbbell narrowed at both ends. Which of these, if either, causes trench mouth, is still uncertain. It is certain, however, that the disease is contagious and can be spread from one person to another.

When trench mouth starts suddenly, pain is always present. The mouth and tongue burn and excessive salivation is the rule. Sometimes the saliva has a bloody appearance. The breath has a foul odor and there is a metallic taste in the mouth. In children, sore throat, fever, pains in the muscles and joints, difficulty in swallowing and the appearance of severe illness are frequent.

The lining of the mouth may ulcerate and sometimes a membrane forms which can be confused with diphtheria. The involved areas around the gums and throat are inflamed, tender and bleed easily if pressed or scraped.

Erupting teeth, or teeth in poor position, ill-fitting dentures, poor oral hygiene and interference with nutrition of the gums often bring on trench mouth.

Certain vitamin deficiencies, particularly of vitamin C and B, chronic malnutrition, some blood diseases and several disturbances of the digestive tract also enter into the picture.

Treatment is complicated and generally takes quite a long time. Smoking and alcoholic beverages are strictly prohibited, highly spiced and seasoned foods must also be avoided.

In acute varieties, rest in bed is necessary. Soft foods are given and in some cases extra vitamins are prescribed. Cooperation between the dentist and physician usually brings the best and quickest results. Medication also is generally needed.

Anything which lowers the vitality helps to bring on trench mouth. During wars or famines, when hundreds of thousands of people are not getting enough to eat and are subject to great stress and strain, trench mouth often spreads like wildfire.

After any wasting illness a person becomes more susceptible than when things are going well. However trench mouth can and does develop in people who are in apparently excellent health.

Congress Crippled

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Court Ends Effectiveness Of Investigations

The Supreme Court of the United States has crippled the effectiveness of congressional investigations.

By one sweeping decision the court has opened the way to Communists, traitors, disloyal citizens and crooks of all kinds in business and labor — to refuse to answer any questions which the witness arbitrarily decides for himself are not "pertinent" to a legislative purpose. This means that every time a senator or a representative asks a question in an investigation the witness must be given a clear explanation of what the "legislative purpose" is and this may even have to be confirmed by a resolution adopted in each case by the Senate or the House.

Then it may have to be passed upon in a decision by the Supreme Court before it is really valid.

This cumbersome procedure kills future investigations that seek to expose the ways and means by which the Communists infiltrate America. It kills any searching investigation of racketeers in the labor-union movement, or any other kind of corruption.

Had the Supreme Court's new "law" been in effect during the Harding administration it would have killed off any exposure of the Teapot Dome scandals. Had it been rendered in 1950 Alger Hiss could have avoided answering questions asked by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, whose "charter" of authority held ever since 1938 now is torn to shreds by the Supreme Court.

SEN. McCLELLAN, Sen. Kefauver, Sen. Eastland and the chairman of various House investigating committees might as well shut up shop.

The power to investigate has been curtailed drastically on the ground that Congress has to particularize in every case and specify in its resolutions exactly why it wants certain questions answered.

It must somehow anticipate all the questions the investigating committees may wish to ask.

This is, as Justice Clark, a former attorney general, declared in his dissent, both "unnecessary and unworkable." He added:

"The resulting restraint imposed on the committee system appears to cripple the system beyond workability."

This is because the Supreme Court has now set itself up as knowing more about what Congress needs to know to legislate than Congress itself thinks it does.

In the words of Justice Clark: "The majority (of the court) has substituted the judiciary as the grand inquisitor and supervisor of congressional investigations. It has never been so."

ALL THE JUSTICES, of course, are honorable men and conscientious in the pursuit of their duty. But for the most part they live in a legal vacuum.

They display a curious unawareness of the actual operations of Communist subversion. To them, apparently, there is no Communist menace, no such thing as infiltration by stooges of the Communists and if a man admits he has worked and "cooperated" with the Communists and then refuses to tell who else he met in such activities, this is construed now as a "right of silence" derived from the First Amendment which, now added to the Fifth Amendment, makes it easy for treason to be protected.

So They Say

Communists will never be defeated by our give-away program. — W. Spruille Braden, former ambassador to Argentina.

Israel's great wish is to renew and maintain normal relations with any nation, no matter its regime. — Premier David Ben-Gurion.

Little attention on the whole is given to the long list of renewed incursions by armed (Egyptian) infiltrators into Israel. — Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman Moshe Leshem.

We are in love and our hearts and our hopes are like those of anyone else. — Lan Seager, 33, three feet tall, of Cheman, England, who married a girl 2½ feet taller.

We want full (news) coverage in Red China with no limitations on anybody. — William Dwight, head of American Newspaper Publishers' Assn.

The consideration shown GI William Girard is the equivalent of the throwing of maidens into the fire at the height of the pagan progress. — Mayor Paul Egan of Aurora, Ill.

They knew better but they were just young boys and adventurous. — W. D. Hair of North Augusta, S.C., of his son and another boy who were detained behind Iron Curtain on student tour.

The Supreme Court majority realized, to be sure, the gravity of its decision and tried to soften the blow by minimizing the future danger.

All the Congress has to do now, the court patronizingly suggests, is to take "added care" in authorizing the use of compulsory process. But, as Justice Clark realistically points out, the court doesn't say how this "added care" could be applied in practice.

The Supreme Court majority—Chief Justice Warren, Justices Frankfurter, Black, Douglas and Brennan—seemed to think that the desire of the individual to be spared any unpleasant publicity due to his past associations, was more sacred and more important than the right of Congress to get information about Communist plots and infiltration in order to pass laws to safeguard the nation against destruction.

THE RULING was proclaimed, too, by the court that anyone hereafter can teach and even advocate the forcible overthrow of the government of the United States but unless there is conclusive proof that these teachings are part of a conspiracy to "incite" someone to some action, the viewpoint expressed is merely "abstract doctrine" and not subject to punishment by any law Congress might pass.

There were other significant cases decided by the Supreme Court on Monday, June 17, 1957, which will make that a day a fateful one in American history.

State legislatures were told that they, too, cannot investigate and require witnesses to answer their questions except where it can be proved that the state has an overriding interest in a "subversive" individual which outweighs his right to silence, and this, in turn, might have to be reviewed in each instance by the Supreme Court of the United States.

In another case, the court didn't decide the merits of the "disloyalty" charges against John Stewart Service but said the secretary of state couldn't reverse his undersecretary who had ruled favorably to Mr. Service.

In still another case involving 14 persons convicted of Communist activity under the Smith law, nine were set free and five ordered to stand trial—so as to ascertain the facts as to activities of the defendants relating to one word—"organize"—in the existing law.

IT COULD MEAN activities with reference to a new party or subversive group or a continuing process of organizing in Communist party circles as the Department of Justice has contended.

Since organization work in the Communist party now is ruled by the court to happen only at the creation of the party in 1945 and is adjudged not to be a "continuing" process, certain defendants are set free because they weren't prosecuted within the time prescribed in the statute.

These decisions will cause much consternation throughout the country. They will make happy in some respects, the so-called "liberals" who have long crusaded against congressional investigations of Communist activity but it will make them unhappy in other respects because it gives crooked labor racketeers, shady business operators, financial manipulators and other wrongdoers a means of escape from congressional exposure.

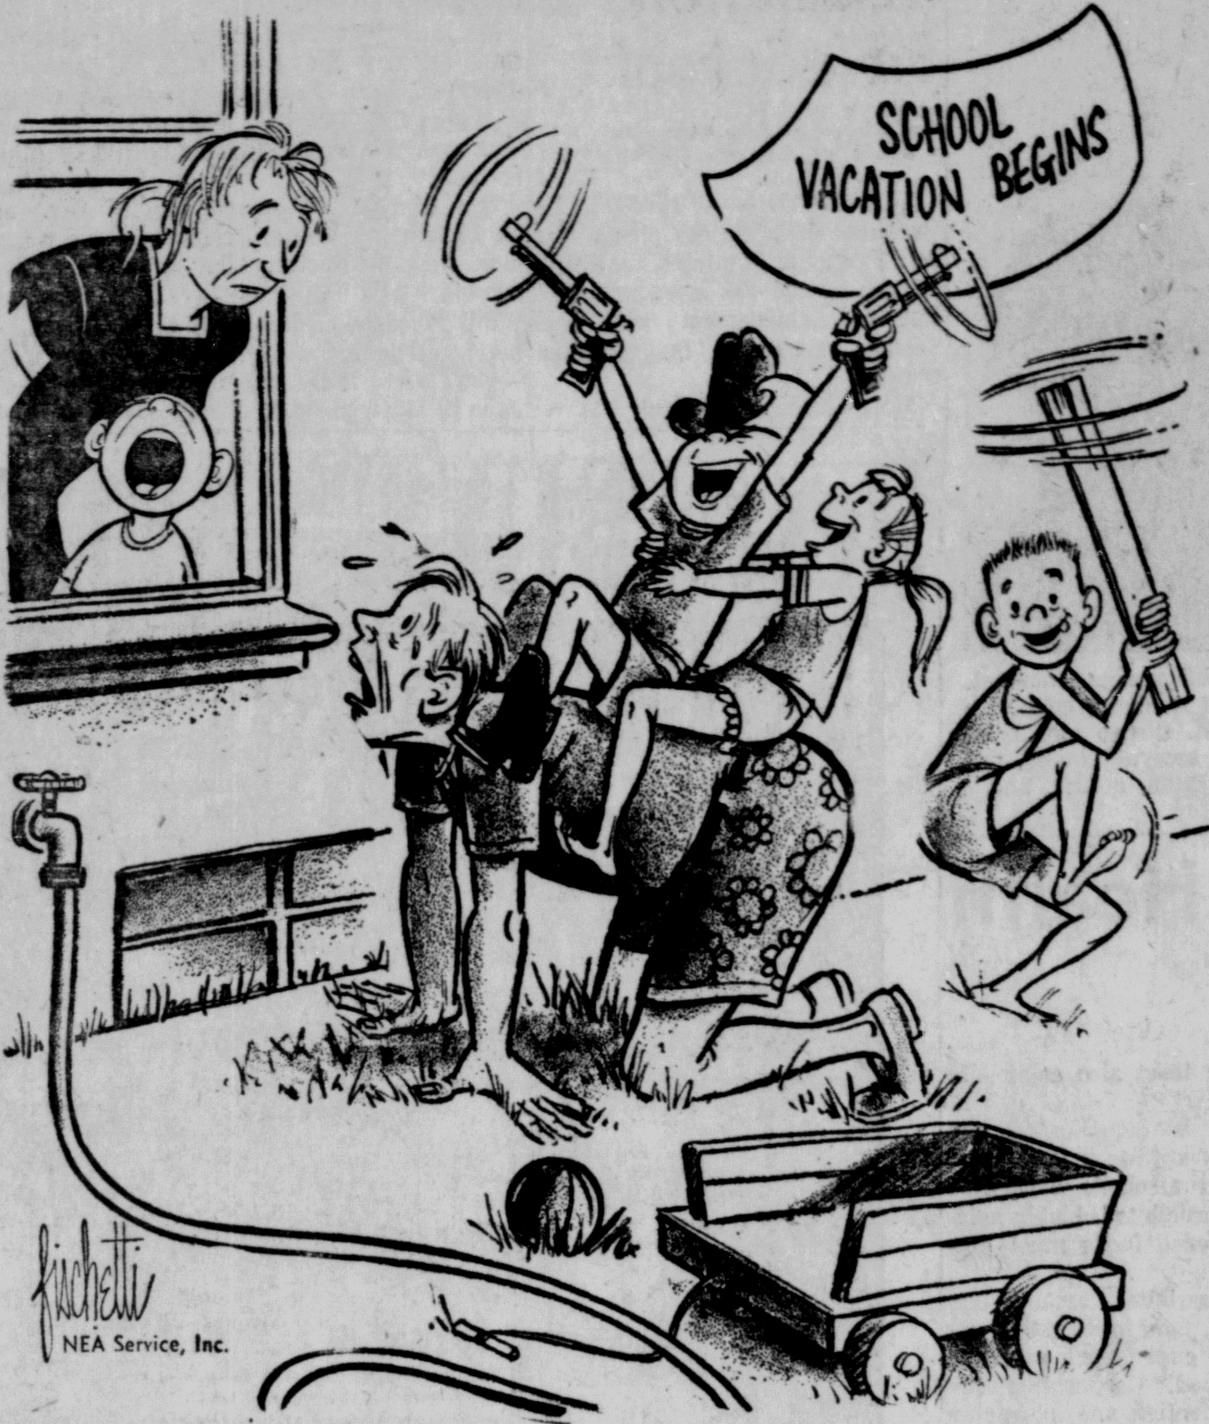

Naturally, Moscow should be happy. All they need do now is to instruct their Communist party in the United States how to adapt themselves to the new ruling.

The Communist "Daily Worker" editorials have assumed all along that the court would decide some day as it did this week, that a man can betray this country and in certain circumstances get away with it.

'I'm Positive Now That Teachers are Underpaid'

More Budget Confusion

By RAYMOND MOLEY

In a speech in New York, Republican chairman Alcorn took Republican critics sharply to task. This follows the pattern of the days when Dewey and Wilkie were running for president and in public speeches were in the habit of scolding their own party.

The result of that was the absence of some millions of Republican voters on election days. The new chairman might well consider that his opposition is the Democratic, not the Republican party.

In the course of his speech, he told a story of a substantial 1956 Republican contributor who told him that, because of the President's budget, he was going to give anything this year.

Alcorn then told the unhappy Republican "that the last budget of President Truman was 3 billion dollars more than the one asked for by President Eisenhower and explained that budgets during the past several years have taken from 20 to 21 per cent of the gross national product."

"I explained that the 1956 budget amounts to only 16 per cent of the gross national product. When we were through talking he made a substantial contribution."

That, I take it, was a very happy ending for the chairman.

The story reminds me of the stories that President Franklin D. Roosevelt used to tell about his conversations with people who came to him with some matter of disagreement.

The stories always were highlighted with a fatherly sermon by the President, and always ended with his saying that his visitor said, "goodness, I never thought of that."

But the Alcorn visitor, if he had money enough to claim such ardent attention from the chairman, must surely have some elementary knowledge of economics. And he must have been distressed at the chairman's casual information.

In the first place, anyone with an elementary sense of politics and economics should know that the Truman budget to which he referred was a sort of shadow budget.

It was the one which, as outgoing president, he was required to submit but which would immediately be supplanted by another budget by the incoming president.

For this reason President Truman included everything but the kitchen stove as vote bait, leaving it to his successor to make the necessary cuts.

A proper comparison should be made with the Truman budgets from 1946 to 1950, which were peacetime budgets and which, even with due corrections for the shrinking dollar, were not bad by comparison with those of the present President.

Excluding national defense, veterans' services and benefits, interest on public debt, and international affairs and finance, the Truman expenditures in fiscal 1947, 1948, and 1949 were approximately 5.7 billion, 4.6 billion, and 8.1 billion dollars respectively.

The Eisenhower fiscal years 1954, 1955, and 1956 for the same purposes were respectively 8.1 billion, 10.5 billion, and 11.2 billion.

The alibi which has been offered over and over by the administration about percentages of the "gross national product" is arrant nonsense.

In the first place, the "national product," either gross or net, is not a real product in the sense that it is wealth produced. It is a lot of things, including expenditures.

"Gross" national product as given out by the Department of Commerce includes among many things, not relevant to wealth produced, the spending of the government.

Thus the more the government spends, the bigger the "gross national product." The Department of Commerce has another, smaller figure for "net national product," but that, too, is no guide to what the nation can afford.

Finally, what reason is there why the government should justify what it spends on the basis of any such figure as national product or national income?

The justification of government expenditures should be on the basis of need for each item.

That, no doubt, Chairman Alcorn has been too busy with his regional meetings to examine.

Off On A Buck

By TRUMAN TWILL

A memento of money inflation common in my generation was the worthless paper currency circulated in Germany after World War I.

It was the horrible example of what must never be permitted to happen here. As a covetous little shaver in a household where a buck was important buying power, I seethed when shown those German shin-plasters. They represented what opportunistic goons were capable of doing to decent people.

I am now a covetous big shaver. I still seethe.

It has been years since I saw a worthless reichsmark. All I need to see now is that U.S. buck, which once was important buying power.

Get one thing straight. I am not interested in the official statistics of the buck's purchasing power, although they are a mouthful.

In case you do not keep that information at hand, it amounts to this: You now need two bucks and 85 cents to spare to replace the buck you had in 1913, if you are going to hold your own. That was when I was a little shaver.

It is only half the story, the half the statisticians tell. The other half is what you know from your own experience.

The buck you had in 1913, even had it not been watered down to two bits and some odd cents statistically, has been given a thousand more places to go than existed then.

Every time you stop at a filling station today, you lay out as much for your thirsty iron horse as the family groceries cost for a week in 1913, when no one owned an automobile. Yet, the automobile now is classified as a necessity.

In 1913, you could pay all the taxes you owed with the sugar-bowl money and have enough left to paint the house. The federal government then spent less than three-quarters of a billion a year; today it spends 70 billion and up. Local and state taxes were trifling. Today they are staggering.

This is what has been happening to the places where dollars go and to their purchasing power. But nothing comparable has been happening to the places where dollars must be earned. That is still being done the hard way.

While public spending has grown astronomical and dollar value has grown microscopic, earnings per week as far as purchasing power is concerned are still modest—only two and a-half times what they were in 1913. So the difference is being made up by circulating more bills.

That is the story of inflation. That is why millions of Americans who once kept dollar bills in a tidy bunch now stuff them willily into pockets and purses. It hardly pays to straighten them; they are too soon gone.

That is why millions of Americans who think they are in clover because their hourly rates of pay sound fantastically high should quit sleep-walking.

It used to cost a million reichsmarks for a trifle in Germany during the big blow-up after World War I. Germans may have had an illusion that it was a treat to have a million to spend, just as Americans get a bang out of being able to pay $5 and up for a $1 meal.

But the illusion of wealth is not going to last. The penny already has disappeared as a thing of value. The nickel is good only for flavored chicle. The dime is for telephones and plumbing for pay. The sawbuck is the new unit of spending money. At the rate it is dwindling, the double-sawbuck will move in soon. Then the 50 and finally the 100.

I never have seen a 1000-dollar bill but if this keeps up who wants to bet I never will see one. Maybe for lunch some day. Or in change for a 5000-dollar bill at the filling station.

Who is going to stand up on his hind legs and say it must not happen to decent people here?

Thought For Today

Behold, your house is left unto you desolate; and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. — Luke 13: 35.

Truly at the day of judgment we shall not be examined as to what we have read, but as to what we have done; not as to how well we have spoken, but as to how religiously we have lived. — Thomas a Kempis.

Smart people get what they earn and wise ones earn what they get.

Once Over

Baseball and the Bigger Audience

Why all the fines and criticism over fights on big league baseball fields? The battles are an act, we suspect, indicating a sudden keen realization of pay-as-you-dial TV ball games. The idea is to combine baseball with boxing, rasslin' and cowboy drama, each now exercising a terrific pull on TV.

THE APPEAL of twisting a dial and seeing these three popular airwave features blended into the national game could be terrific.

If these baseball diamond scraps in any way followed the traditional pattern, with the fight rules observed as in the old days, we wouldn't be suspicious. But the 1957 diamond hassle is suddenly embracing all the knock-down-and-drag-out features of a movie western, riotous rasslin' bouts and Wednesday night fight preliminaries.

When ball players clash today they use everything but the gambling room chairs, barroom cuspidors, hanging-lamps, and Bowie knives.

You have a feeling that before the umpires restore peace, a relief pitcher will ride into action on a cow-pony.

NO ELEMENT of true sportsmanship enters into the ruckus. The players specialize in flying tackles, attack from the rear, and the high fidelity low-punch.

Any experienced legitimate fighter in the boxing business would be suspended for at least a year for such infractions of the fistful rules.

Only in current wrestling programs is such a routine of disorderly conduct, violating all the regulations, encouraged, glorified and cheered.

ASTOUNDING as it may seem to fair-play people, there is a terrific TV audience for modern rasslin' programs in which every element of decency, sportsmanship and proper human relationship is busted wide open.

It is possible that big-league baseball is going all-out to win this curious audience which howls with delight when one contestant kicks the other in the stomach grinds a foot into his face, hurls him out of the ring and jumps on a man when he is down.

THE OTHER NIGHT we saw a wrestling program on TV in which one man grabbed a strand of rope, whipped it around the other fat man's neck and tried to strangle him to wild applause.

Yes, we know that in modern wrestling as a TV show much of the action is faked, carefully rehearsed and purposely given a burlesque element.

But there is something queer about an audience that can find fun in a complete mockery of fair play.

Nevertheless it is a big audience and it may be ready to go over to big-league baseball if baseball is revised for TV over-all coverage. To your corners, baseball men! And come out shooting!

THE RECENT WAR between Sherman Billingsley and the house painters was overplayed. . . . It was of minor importance. . . . Thousands of American house owners order strangers off their front steps every day. . . . The strangers are always defiant if not abusive as they retreat reluctantly. . . . Every owner, faced by such a slow withdrawal, feels a wish that he had a weapon, preferably a cannon.

Billingsley foolishly displayed a puny, .22 which by big city standards is not even rated as defensive. . . . A New Yorker loses face by carrying such a small caliber weapon.

Both parties were to blame. . . . Billingsley was irascible and jumpy; house painters get terribly bored in the deadly monotonous routine with turpentines, linseed oils, scrapers, brushes, putty knives, sandpaper, etc., and crave excitement.

If anybody welcomes a hassle, especially with photography, a house painter should.

(If we were the judge we would have sentenced Billingsley to 24 hours painting a house and given the painters one week running a nightclub under strike conditions.)

A STATEN ISLAND woman, recluse, 90 years old, left $250,000 in cash in her cheap flat and $250,000 in banks. . . . She was the widow of a tugboat skipper. (Could this be a case where, back in the depression days, a bank asked for a tow, and got it?)

'All Shook Up'

The uncertainty of the law, as many wise men have observed, is not so much in the law as in the evidence.

The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling in the case of the California Communists suggests the uncertainty also is in the judges.

The 14 California defendants, convicted five years ago after a six-month trial on the charge of plotting to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U.S. government, now are to be relieved of guilt because of technical faults in the charge against them.

The American public, which had despaired of finding any way to protect itself against being systematically undermined by Communist conspirators until the convictions of 11 Communist leaders in 1949, once again is "all shook up."

The 1949 trial, based on the Smith Act, which had been passed in 1940, was reviewed by the U.S. Supreme Court and clinched in the court's final session in 1951 — just six years ago. The California Communists were convicted under the same law the next year.

The American public thought it finally had found the answer to a problem which had become so aggravated it seemed at times as if they were barred by their own laws from defending themselves against those who would destroy the laws.

Now they are reminded that they can be barred by technicalities in the administration of law from the protection which the law is supposed to provide.

The net result is a sense of frustration.

No one can say for certain what needs to be done to make it impossible for persons hostile to the government of the United States to carry on their subversive activities. No legislator, no law enforcer, no citizen can say, "This is how it could be done."

They all know what they want to do. They all know why it needs to be done. They all know that it must be done within the framework of the law to preserve their freedom, which is based on law.

But they cannot guarantee what will be done to the law by those who work with it, analyze it for weaknesses and interpret its application to actual problems. It is as though they had discovered that their reliance had been placed on a will-o-the-wisp, which is never what the law should appear to be to the citizens of a constitutional government.

Perhaps all doubts will have been dispelled, or at least forgotten, when the Supreme Court convenes next October. Perhaps the things that trouble laymen about judges' rulings which set aside arbitrarily what other equally sincere and able judges have decided are clear to lawyers and judges.

Perhaps the important thing to remember about the law is that much of it must be taken on faith when knowledge of what the lawyers are doing becomes as murky as it became in the case of the California Communists.

When In Rome . . .

While Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi is talking with Washington officials this week, many things which are clear to officialdom both here and in Japan will remain cloudy to public opinion in both countries. There has been a serious breakdown in communications.

In the now-famous Girard case, incidentally, it never has been made clear to Americans why Japanese civilians were scavenging shell cases of value to the U.S. Army. If there had been no civilians on the firing range, the Japanese woman who was killed when Army Specialist 3-c William S. Girard lobbed a shell case in her direction could not have been struck.

Yet, officially it is a matter of record that the United States shares the firing range with Japanese troops. When not in use, the range is farmed by Japanese civilians who have had the privilege for many decades of scavenging spent shell cases. It is one of their means of livelihood.

The United States was complying with Japanese custom and tradition by letting civilians pick up the shell cases between rounds of firing. Far from doing anything calculated to hurt the woman who was killed, Girard had been throwing spent shell cases into a foxhole for her to pick up; he apparently thought he was doing her a favor.

Why the excitement then? Because the United States wants to keep from upsetting the Japanese, and the obvious way to do it is to let them make an accidental manslaughter case out of the incident, which they are entitled to do under their agreement with the United States. Meanwhile, Girard remains in U.S. hands, and it continues to be likely the Japanese will dispose of the whole affair by ruling that they lack jurisdiction, on the grounds that Girard was still nominally on duty when the accident occurred, though there was a lull in target practice.

The Indians used to bite the dust and now everybody does it each time there's a wind-storm.

With some women, staying young is an old habit as well as a good one.

Miss Judy Bricker Is Wed On Sunday To J. Karl Bott

In the Methodist Church in Lisbon, J. Karl Bott and Miss Judy Bricker exchanged their marriage vows Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

The altar was decorated with two vases of mixed white flowers. Seven-branch candelabra stood at either side of the altar, which was banked with ferns and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Bricker of RD 4, Lisbon, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bott of RD 2, East Palestine.

Rev. Larry Wigal, pastor of the Phillips Christian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Joyce Wade of Lisbon sang "Because," "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Vernon Duke of Lisbon was organist.

Mr. Bricker gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown with a fitted bodice styled with a matching jacket with round collar and long pointed sleeves. The ballerina length skirt was designed with tiers of lace and net.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a lace cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with ivy and ribbon streamers tied in lovers knots.

Miss Alyce Joyce Harrison of Lisbon, maid of honor, wore a mint green afternoon dress with ruffled bodice and pleated skirt.

100 Persons At Fete Of Eastern Stars

One hundred members and guests attended the mother-daughter dinner party Monday evening at Masonic Temple sponsored by the Salem Chapter Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Russell Myers, worthy matron, presented gifts from the chapter to Mrs. Anna Leeper, oldest mother present; Mrs. Walter Ulrich, youngest mother present; and Cynthia Kay Bauman, daughter of Mrs. Arden Bauman, the youngest daughter present.

Mrs. Arthur Johnston was in charge of the program. Mrs. Arthur Baddeley gave the toast to the daughters, and her daughter, Miss Ruth Ann Baddeley, gave the response.

A play, "We Want Mother," was presented by the following cast: Mrs. Tyler Jacobson as the father; Mrs. John Kehrer, mother; Miss Elaine Greenamyer, Connie; and Mrs. Wilbur Schnurrenberger, Bob.

The tables were arranged in the shape of a star. A different colored runner decorated each table, and the mint cups at each table matched the color of the runner. White candles were used, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of regal lilies.

The next regular meeting will be the first Tuesday in September.

Miss Bauman Is Honored At Showers

Miss Louise Bauman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Bauman of 1836 E. 3rd St., was honored at two recent bridal showers.

Tuesday evening, Miss Kay Paumier of Homewood Ave. entertained at a miscellaneous shower party at her home.

Decorations in the shower theme featured two umbrellas covered with pink and white crepe paper placed on either side of the coffee table, which was centered with a bride, bridegroom and minister in miniature and fashioned of kitchen gadgets.

Game prizes won by Mrs. Cleus Paumier, mother of the hostess, and Mrs. Robert Middeker, were given to the bride-to-be.

Lily of the valley decorated the dessert, and tiny dolls dressed as bridesmaids were used as favors for all except Miss Bauman, whose favor was a doll dressed as a bride. Mrs. Paumier assisted her daughter in serving.

Miss Bauman and Dr. Clyde W. Conger of Delaware will be married July 21 in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The bride-to-be and her mother were weekend guests of Mrs. Ruth Conger, mother of the prospective bridegroom, at her home in Delaware. While there, a gadget shower party was given for Miss Bauman Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Canright.

Game prizes went to Mrs. Henry Sheets and Miss Lyla Evans. A buffet lunch was served.

Couple Mark Their 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Vincent of E. 3rd St. greeted 125 friends when they held open house Sunday in celebration of the 40th wedding anniversary.

Three members of the original wedding party in attendance were Mrs. H. E. Zeppernick, sister of the bride; Miss Ora Vincent, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Lee B. Vincent.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent were married at the bride's home June 16, 1917 with the immediate family and a few friends present. Dr. W. L. Swan officiated.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple moved into their new home on E. 3rd St.

The Vincents have three daughters, Mrs. George Lord, (Marguerite) of Broomall, Pa.; Mrs. S. Royden Piper (Alice Ruth) of Delaware City, Del.; and Mrs. Jack Duncan (Mary Lou) of Nowata, Okla., and seven grandchildren. The daughters arranged the celebration.

The home was beautifully decorated with flowers, the gifts of friends. Mrs. J. A. Fehr, Mrs. J. L. Crawford and Mrs. Louis Weirick presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Ernest Breit, Mrs. Edward Wilhelm and Miss Gene Manchester of Canfield assisted.

The Vincents are both active in the Presbyterian Church, where Mr. Vincent, who is an elder, has been teacher of the Forum Class for many years.

The couple has lived in Salem since their marriage with the exception of a year during World War I when they lived in Dayton and Washington, D.C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wisner, son Donny, and daughter, Nancy, of West View were guests Saturday of Mrs. Wisner's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hubler of S. Howard Ave.

Damascus Debs Club Sets Monday Picnic

DAMASCUS — A picnic was planned for Sevaeken Lake on Monday evening when the Damascus Debs Club was entertained by Mrs. Eldon Morckel at the home of Mrs. Ralph Coen.

Canasta was the pastime with prizes being awarded Mrs. Coen and Mrs. Roy Whinery. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The annual picnic supper for the Butler Rural Advisory Council was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bardo Monday evening with the meal served in the garage.

Visiting occupied the time with 30 in attendance.

The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warrington July 15, with Mrs. Richard Gidley conducting the devotions and Mrs. Vance Bell in charge of the recreation.

The Junior Christian Endeavor members of the Friends Church enjoyed a swimming party at Treasure Lake Monday evening, in charge of the leader, Mrs. Kenneth Phillips and assistant leader Mrs. Atlee Swartz.

A picnic supper was served and a scavenger hunt was enjoyed, with 23 children in attendance. Kenneth Phillips and Atlee Swartz assisted in the event.

Mrs. Florence Helwig and Mrs. Ruby Thomas of Elyria were weekend guests of Mrs. John Eckenrood. Miss Adelaide Helwig of Warren spent Saturday with Mrs. John Eckenrood and guests.

The Tri Eight Club will be entertained by Mrs. Harold Wulf Friday evening, June 28.

Mrs. Robert McDonald spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Herrick in Shaker Heights. She assisted them in moving to their newly purchased home.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Crew of Johnston spent the weekend with Clarence Hoopes and other relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hoffman and family have returned from Mio, Michigan, where they visited her sister, Mrs. Walter Roose and family.

Miss Dorothy Birschak To Wed Gerald Tuel

Mr. and Mrs. John Birschak of 363 Linwood Drive, Alliance, former Salem residents, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Jane, to Gerald Dwayne Tuel, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tuel of 580 New York Ave., Sebring.

Custom of open church will be observed for the wedding July 6 at 11:30 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Alliance.

A reception will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. Theodore's Hall at 830 S. Freedom Ave., Alliance.

Miss Birschak, a 1954 graduate of Alliance High School, is a teller employed by the Midland-Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Association in Alliance. She is a member of Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Mr. Tuel, a 1952 graduate of Sebring High School, attended Kent State University before entering the Air Force. He attends Mt. Union College and is an employee of the Bonney Forge and Tool Co.

Ryans Reside At Lisbon After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryan are residing at RD 3, Lisbon following their marriage June 8 in the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church of East Liverpool.

Rev. Ray M. Smith officiated at the single ring ceremony which united in marriage Shirley Easton, daughter of Mrs. Cleo Carvelli of RD 4, Lisbon, and Walter Easton of Lisbon; and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryan of RD 3, Lisbon.

The bride was attired in a dress of pink lace and pink picture hat with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Edward Grier of Lisbon was the bride's attendant, and chose a green lace dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Edward Grier of Lisbon was the best man for the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carvelli chose a navy blue dress of taffeta with light blue accessories and a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Ryan wore a rose beige dress with beige accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

At the reception in the Robert Ryan home following the ceremony, guests came from East Liverpool, Salem, Canton, Lisbon, and Hamstead and Pittsburgh.

A graduate of Lisbon High School, the bride is employed at the Salem China Co. Ryan, a Lisbon High School graduate, is a senior at Youngstown University.

Springer-Wise Vows Spoken In Ashland

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Johnson Springer of 623 Garman Ave., Ashland, former Salem residents, announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, to Lt. J.G. Carlton Henry Wise, of the Navy.

The marriage was solemnized in a double ring wedding Saturday before a large company of friends and relatives in the Methodist Church in Ashland.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the Ashland Country Club.

Following a buffet supper at the bride's home, the newlyweds left for California, where the bridegroom will be stationed for the next year.

The bride, a graduate of Mount Union College, taught school near Cleveland last year.

Attending from Salem were Mrs. J. M. Kelley and daughter, Carol, Miss Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Warren White, Clyde White, Mrs. Charles Malloy and children, Kent and Molly, Mrs. Mary Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Hilles Linton, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schuller and daughter, Joan.

Other relatives, formerly of Salem, in attendance were Dr. Joseph Frank Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scullion of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schill of Elwood City, Pa.

The average $4,500 a year man in the U.S. must work two hours and twenty-six minutes a day just to pay his taxes, according to a survey made by Tax Foundation.

Mrs. Paul Raymond Holisky

Holiskys Are At Home After Wedding

The southern states was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raymond Holisky following their June 8 marriage in St. Patrick Church in Leetonia.

Rev. Warren Braun officiated at the double ring ceremony which united in marriage, Bernice J. Baker, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Baker of 8 Washington St., Leetonia and the late Ernest Baker, and Paul Raymond Holisky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holisky of Oak St., Leetonia.

White gladioli and carnations were arranged at the altar where the bride placed a bouquet of roses to the Blessed Virgin.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ernest Baker Jr., the bride wore an imported Chantilly lace over satin gown with an extended train. Her rosary was blue cut diamond-shaped, and she wore her fingertip veil held in place a sweet-heart crown studded with pearls and rhinestones.

The bride's flowers were arrangements of white mums and pink carnations.

Maid of honor Mary Ann McGill, a cousin of the bridegroom, was attired in a yellow net ruffle ballerina gown and a yellow headpiece. She carried arrangements of white carnations and yellow mums.

Bridesmaids were Delores Baker, sister of the bride, and Gloria Holisky, cousin of the bride, who wore orchid ruffled ballerina gowns and matching headpieces. Their flowers were white carnations with yellow mums.

Flower girls were Patty and Mary Louise Baker, sisters of the bride, and Rose Marie Holisky, sister of the bridegroom. They wore white dresses trimmed in lace, and carried baskets of red roses and white carnations.

Ring bearer was Wilson Baker, brother of the bride.

Robert Pross of Leetonia served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Donald Lyman of Salem, Albert Cross, and Anthony Baker, and Mike Cross of Leetonia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baker chose an organdy dress in the orchid hue and wore a corsage of white and red carnations. Mrs. Holisky was attired in an orchid lace dress with a white and red carnation corsage.

Two hundred guests greeted the newlyweds at the bridal reception held in the OSI Hall in Leetonia, following the ceremony. Baskets of white lilies and carnations provided the hall decor, and a five tier cake on the refreshment table featured pink roses and hearts.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Joseph Kozier, aunt of the bridegroom and Mrs. John Holisky. Mrs. Blanche Feeze registered the guests who came from Salem, Youngstown, Columbiana and Pennsylvania.

When the couple departed for a honeymoon tour of southern states, Mrs. Holisky was wearing a white lace over satin dress. They are residing at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

A graduate of Leetonia High School, the bride is a nursing aide. Mr. Holisky, a Leetonia High School graduate, is employed at the Columbiana Pump Co.

Fishing Derby Planned For Cub Scouts

Ralph Zimmerman, chairman of the northern district camping and activities committee of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that Cub Scouts of this district will hold a fishing derby Saturday.

This, the first of a series of district events for the summer months, will be held in the old canal just below Guilford Lake. The property is now owned by the City of Salem.

Aubrey Hayes, utilities superintendent, turned the canal over to the boys for the day.

Prizes will be awarded for record catches. A complete fishing outfit will be given to the boy who catches the largest fish during the derby.

Many of the local cub scout packs have already signed up for participation in the derby and reports from the council office in Lisbon indicate that several hundred boys will participate in the activity.

B. & P.W. Club Plans For Installation

The Business and Professional Women's Club will install new officers at a dinner meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Timberlans.

Reservations may be made with Kathryn Hahn at ED 7-6584 Friday.

Girls' State 'Congressmen' Begin Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A number of bills, including the perennial one to lower the voting age, come up for consideration today as "senators" and "representatives" of Buckeye Girls' State get down to the serious business of lawmaking. Girls' State is holding its 11th annual sessions at Capital University here.

Up for consideration in the 32-member Senate are a half dozen bills, including a proposal to give men and women equal pay for equal work. The Senate has already assigned some bills to committee.

In the 64-member House, representatives are considering several proposals, including bills to reduce the minimum age requirement for voters, and increasing the minimum age for licensed drivers.

The 720 girl staters Wednesday night attended a banquet where six top "administrative officials" were inaugurated by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Earlier, the girls elected House and Senate leaders. The Senate named Beverly Brown of Hillsboro majority leader; Marilyn Zell of Marysville minority leader and Elaine Bay of Kent clerk.

The House elected Richelle Lurye of Marion speaker, Judy Hoskinson of Columbus majority floor leader, Joyce Laibe of Orrville minority leader, and Linda Dandridge of Columbus House clerk.

After today's legislative sessions, the girls will be taken on bus tours to various government buildings in Columbus.

The legislative sessions end Saturday.

Playground At Winona Serves As a Memorial

WINONA — The Glen Bennett Memorial Playground serves as a recreational center for the people of this small Columbiana County community.

Established on an acre tract of ground given by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bennett in the memory of their son who was killed during World War II, the playlot also honors the memory of other local war heroes including William Andre, Charles Wolford, Gerald Wheaton, and Zeno Duda.

Equipment for the playground is acquired from funds raised annually from a strawberry festival and this season's event is scheduled Saturday evening. Mrs. Wilmer Satterthwait and Mrs. Raymond Cope are co-chairmen.

Officers of the Playground Association are: President, Paul Waithman; secretary, Mrs. Ted Brantingham; treasurer, Mrs. Cecil Bennett; directors, Harold Johns, Janet Ashman and Clyde Bennett.

The grounds committee for Saturday includes Clyde Bennett, Howard Bailey, Ted Brantingham and Walter Holmes; clean-up, Jim Rhodes, William Alexander, Joseph Cooper, Gilmore Coffee and John Smith; cashiers, Mrs. Elmer Stamp, Dora Loudon, Camille Bennett and Ruth Johns.

of inquiries, Eisenhower made the point that with an adequate inspection system to guard against secret testing, it might be possible to work out an arrangement for suspending the tests in advance of some other aspects of a disarmament agreement.

He spoke of suspension under a system which would assure the United States and Russia that each knew exactly what the other was doing. Both countries could then use the period of the suspension "to work out something in which we could have real confidence," he said.

A test suspension then, he commented at another point, "would naturally not be isolated (from other disarmament steps) because after all everybody wants to know whether the other fellow is keeping safe, so there would have to be some kind of inspectional basis with it."

Ten Standard Oil Dealers Are Honored

In observance of the Standard Oil Co. "Dealer Appreciation Week," ten district Sohio dealers were honored, with their wives as guests, at a dinner at Casa Loma Country Club Wednesday.

Receiving plaques for 5 years service were Leonard Cunningham, East Liverpool; Henry Grimes of Irontide; Randall Hooks of East Palestine and Arden Bowman and Wilbur Coy of Salem.

Metal inserts for plaques previously presented were given to Paul E. Glunt of Hanoverton for 10 years service and to Paul Barnett of North Georgetown, and Frank Dominic of Leetonia for 15 years. Frank Downard of Hammondsville along with Lois and Beth Switzer of Elkton were presented with 20 year studs.

PROPOSES HIGHER TAXES

PARIS (AP) — Premier Maurice Bourges - Maunoury, after only eight days in office, puts before the National Assembly Thursday the issue most likely to bring down his government. His Cabinet has agreed on virtually the same program of higher taxes as the one on which the Conservatives toppled the government of Socialist Premier Guy Mollet May 21.

The Eiffel Tower in Paris is 985 feet high, third in the world behind the highest two buildings in New York City. The latter two are the Empire State at 1,500 feet and the Chrysler at 1,046 feet.

Will Question Cross On Loans

Bakers' Chief Denies Beating Prostitute

WASHINGTON (AP)—James G. Cross, a former "pan greaser and fruit cook" who rose to be president of the Bakery Workers Union, was scheduled to return before the Senate Rackets Committee today for further questioning about alleged misconduct in office.

Awaiting Cross were questions about assertions that he okayed below-standard wage contracts for Zion Industries, Inc., Zion, Ill., while the brothers Herbert and Martin Phillipsborn Sr., who are financially interested in the big baking and candy company, were loaning him about $100,000. Cross said he wants to tell about that and bring the loan issue into "focus."

In Chicago, Martin Phillipsborn Jr. said his father made "substantial" loans to Cross, but that he did not know the amount. The younger Phillipsborn said the loans had nothing to do with contract negotiations between the union and the firm. The new statement by the younger Phillipsborn followed a previous statement that so far as he knew his father made any loan to Cross.

The Elder Phillipsborn's lawyer Harry N. Wyatt said the loans totaled about $96,000—$56,000 in 1955, and about $40,000 in 1956. The lawyer added that both loans were repaid in about three months.

For more than three hours Wednesday Cross was questioned about his expense accounts to the Union. Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said they totaled more than $39,000 in 1956, and that they included $15,000 to $20,000 for entertainment without supporting documents to show the money actually had been spent. Cross insisted the accounts were accurate.

Cross was quizzed sharply about his relations with Mrs. Kay Lower, a convicted Los Angeles prostitute whom he said he employed as an undercover organizer for the Bakers Union.

He refused to say whether he had any "personal dealings" with Mrs. Lower, contending the committee had no authority to ask such questions.

He angrily denied he beat Mrs. Lower in a row over a diamond ring allegedly bought by her with union funds for Cross, but given to another man. Mrs. Lower invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked at an earlier hearing about this and other matters dealing with Cross.

"I've never struck Mrs. Lower," Cross said.

"Did you ever beat her up?" pressed Kennedy.

"There's a difference?" asked Cross.

Cross said that during the time he claims she was engaged in union organizing activities he knew nothing of her record of arrests for "offering" living in a house of ill fame, and drunken driving.

He said he fired her when he learned of that record.

Heads Area Legion

Robert G. Patchen

Robert G. Patchen of 46 Duquesne St., Columbiana, who was elected commander of the Tenth District American Legion at a convention in Massillon Sunday, will be installed at the state Legion convention in Dayton in July.

Patchen, a milk route supervisor for Isaly Dairy in Youngstown, served four and one-half years in the Air Force during World War II. He has served as Columbiana Firestone post commander also on district and state committees.

Mrs. Patchen, the former June White of Grand Rapids, Mich., is active in Legion Auxiliary work.

George R. Snook of 138 Seventh St., Columbiana, is adjutant of the Legion Tenth District.

of the new VFW structure on Arch St.

Mayor Cranmer has proclaimed Saturday as "Dads Day."

More than 300 are expected to attend the Dads convention. Registration begins Friday at 10 a.m.

John Franko of Solon, state president of the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans, will preside at the various meetings.

A banquet Saturday evening at 7:30 will be followed by a dance. Officers are to be elected Sunday, followed by installation.

Arranging the convention program are the following local officers of Post 8, Herbert Covert, president; Joe Alessi, senior vice president; Jim Girard, treasurer; Edward Tullis, secretary; Joe Harp, judge advocate; Paul Vignone, chaplain; Walter Kennedy, sergeant-at-arms; Cyrus Baldwin, guard; and Russell Schafer, Jack Sommers and Tullis, trustees.

Tullis is also state senior vice president.

suppliers and sub-contractors. It shows that you folks are greatly interested in the future growth of Salem!

The YWCA building, to encompass an area of 57 by 86 feet, will include four classrooms, a dressing room, locker rooms, large assembly room with a "roll away" stage, a kitchenette, and lounge on the ground floor.

The basement portion of the annex will house a large Y-Teens room, locker facilities, storage space and furnace.

Plans for the purchase of the Blanche Lease property at 364 N. Lincoln Ave. have been approved by the YW board, which originally took an option on the property with a July 1 deadline of purchase.

The YW, in going forward with its plans, will now be eligible for a $40,000 bequest of the late Edith M. Ritz, who willed that amount of money for a YWCA for Salem women.

Girard

ent's case is totally without merit and that the Supreme Court can so decide promptly."

The petition contended that the decision by the executive branch of government to waive United States jurisdiction in the Girard case and let Japan try the soldier is not subject to court review.

"Under the international agreements with Japan," the petition said, "the right to exercise primary jurisdiction in particular cases is a right of the United States, not of the individual soldier."

"The decision whether or not to exercise that right is one for the United States to make in its discretion and in the light of the best interests of the country as viewed by the government. The arrangement certainly does not confer on each accused an option to be tried by court - martial or local court as he might choose."

"Moreover, the established doctrine is that the exercise of executive discretion in this political field is not subject to any review by the courts."

Meanwhile, the Japanese are going ahead with plans to try the 21-year-old Army specialist third class on the equivalent of a manslaughter charge for the firing range death last January of Mrs. Naka Sakai.

But reports from Tokyo said some Japanese officials were speculating Girard might never appear before any court, either Japanese or American.

Several Japanese conceded privately they cannot bring Girard to trial if the U. S. Supreme Court upholds the McGarraghy decision barring the delivery of the soldier to Japanese authorities.

But on the other hand, these officials said that under the U.S.-Japan administrative agreement, any U. S. effort to bring Girard before an Army court-martial would require Japanese approval.

Justice Minister Umekichi Nakamura said the U. S. District Court ruling was "not binding" on Japan, and he said plans for the Girard trial would continue.

He added that the Washington court based its ruling on the premise Girard was on duty. But, the justice minister said, Girard's offense was the result of a "prank." Girard has said the shooting was accidental.

Civil Rights

ply put it before the Senate for decision. In any event, any ruling by Nixon can be appealed to the Senate itself.

While Knowland said he saw no reason why the issue could not be disposed of during the day, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said in a separate interview "it's anybody's guess" how long the matter will take.

Russell made no prediction when a showdown would come. "I just don't know what is going to happen," he said.

The parliamentary maneuvering offered a first test of strength in the Senate on President Eisenhower's civil rights program—which Eisenhower described Wednesday as moderate and decent—but the picture was blurred by the procedural issues involved.

For example, Sen. Morse (D-Ore), a supporter of civil rights legislation, has announced his opposition to bypassing Senate committees and predicted Knowland's attempt to do so will fail.

Furthermore, the effort to place the House bill directly on the Senate calendar is only a preliminary skirmish, because any move to call it up for action can be filibustered by its opponents.

The votes of 64 senators, or two-thirds of their entire Senate membership, are necessary to shut off a filibuster. Past efforts to prevent Southern opponents from talking civil rights bill to death have met defeat under this rule.

In Senate debate Wednesday, Knowland hinted at the possibility that a showdown might be delayed until next year in the face of any determined Southern filibuster.

Knowland contended his move to bypass the Judiciary Committee—headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a foe of civil rights legislation—was justified by the committee's inaction on such measures.

But Russell said the move would "set a precedent that will haunt the leadership in this body for years to come."

He said the South "has been subjected to a hate-the-South campaign the like of which has never been seen in this country in many years."

Two Sailors Are Killed In Carrier Blast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt limped into port early today, the victim of its second accident at sea in two months.

On board were two dead and five seriously injured crewmen. They were sprayed by live steam which spewed out when a pump exploded deep inside the 45,000-warship Wednesday.

Twenty-nine other crewmen were stricken with heat prostration or exhaustion, many of them in efforts to rescue trapped comrades.

Capt. T. W. Hopkins credited heroism and the fine training of U.S. Navy men with holding down the number of casualties. He said "I can't pinpoint one single man" for heroism; "all are equally deserving of praise."

Fifty to 60 men entered the fierce steam for rescue work or to help confine damage.

A board of investigation met to determine the extent of damage. The explosion blew pieces of the pump through two bulkheads as well as the steam lines, Hopkins said, however, he did not think the ship would need drydocking for repairs.

Hopkins said the explosion occurred "about midships in the pump room on the fourth or fifth deck below the hangar deck."

The two men killed were on watch in a compartment adjoining the pump room. Live steam got to them through an open hatch.

Hopkins listed the dead as Bobby E. Hyder, 22, boiler attendant third class, Spartanburg, S.C.; and Sidney R. Wall, 20, fireman, Norwood, S.C.

Bunker Hill Bible School Ends Classes

BUNKER HILL — The Bunker Hill Daily Vacation Bible School came to a close Friday afternoon with the children presenting a program by singing a number of the songs which they learned the past two weeks.

Rev. Ralph Fotia spoke, thanking the parents, children and teachers for their fine cooperation on a successful Bible school term.

Each class returned to their classes where they displayed their handwork to their mothers. A lunch was served to the more than 100 persons present.

Rev. and Mrs. Fotia and family left Sunday afternoon for the annual Northeast Ohio Methodist Conference at Lakeside, Ohio. They expect to be home June 29.

Choir practice for Bunker Hill will be held this week at the home of Mrs. Willard Headland's at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday evening.

Children's Day will be observed Sunday at the Bunker Hill Church services at 11 a.m. Practice for the program will be at Goshen Grange Hall on Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

The Boy Scouts will hold a picnic for families and friends Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at Hawkins Lake at Berlin Center.

COLUMBIANA

Village Council Will Solicit Bids For Construction Of Standpipe

COLUMBIANA — Village council voted Tuesday evening to advertise for bids, at the request of the board of affairs, for the erection of a standpipe at the water plant southeast of town. They also received a request from the Christian Church for the vacating of an alley, dividing a proposed site for a new church building, in the neighborhood of Dixon School, besides granting a request from the Chamber of Commerce for free parking during the grand opening of the new plaza market July 5 and 6. Lastly, they took under consideration a recommendation on the safety committee for a traffic light at S. Main and Friend Sts.

The proposed new standpipe will be on the Joseph Edgerton farm two miles southeast of Columbiana on a hill about 500 feet from the water plant. Its elevation will place it on a level with the standpipe in town. It will be 74 feet in diameter and 32 feet high with a capacity of 1,025,000 gallons, as compared with the 200,000-gallon capacity of the standpipe in town. It will provide a five-day emergency supply of water.

CONSTRUCTION will take six to eight months. The board hopes to have it completed this year. It will meet a state requirement for a supply of water in an emergency. The board contemplates a suspension next spring of use of the standpipe in town for painting and repairs. The water plant pumps an average of 300,000 gallons a day but during the present hot spell, it has been pumping 340,000 gallons a day. A 12-inch line will lead from the plant to the new standpipe.

The cost will probably run in the neighborhood of $60,000. Asked his opinion of a traffic light at Main and Friend, Chief of Police William McGuckin said he has favored it for several years and said traffic there, both car and pedestrian, is heavier since the opening of the plaza market. He said the problem is simplified by the offer of Dick Fitzpatrick to permit a cable to be extended from the corner of his building at Main and Friend. The matter was left with the safety committee. Chairman Gay Zellers estimated it would not be more than $1,000.

THE PROPOSAL to have on the ballot at the November election a proposed two-mill operation levy was tabled until the next meeting July 2. It will give time for the solicitor to get the proposal on the ballot. It provides for renewal of the present .8 of a mill and the levy of an additional 1.2 mills. The additional levy will balance a decline of about $10,000 a year in the last two years, Councilman Walter Miller pointed out. The proposal will need 55 per cent of the votes cast to pass.

The congregation of the Christian church is buying from Mrs. Anna Mehnert, four lots on the east side of N. Middle St. as a site for a new church. No construction work is planned for this year.

Plans for rebuilding on the site of the present church, dedicated in 1899, have been abandoned.

SOLICITOR Jack Kuhlman was instructed to advertise for bids for a new two-door sedan police cruiser.

On recommendation of Chief of Police William McGuckin, a change in the parking ordinance was ordered. It will make permanent, parallel parking at the four corners of the public square. This has been in effect on a trial basis. Meters will be changed to conform.

A recommendation of the safety committee that the intersection of the first alley west of Main St. and the first alley north of Union St. be made a four-way stop was accepted.

Fire Chief Donald Hisey was authorized to buy 300 feet of hose for $645.

Weeds on vacant lots may be cut by the village after five days notice and charged against the property on the tax duplicate.

MRS. J. C. HORTON was elected president of the Columbiana County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary at its June meeting in East Palestine, Tuesday evening. Other officers are: Mrs. Walter McCoy, Lisbon, first vice president; Mrs. John McCausland, East Palestine, second vice president; Mrs. William Needham, Washingtonville, secretary; Mrs. Louis Skvarka, East Liverpool, treasurer; Mrs. Helen Jones, East Liverpool, chaplain and Mrs. Joseph Hughes, Wellsville, historian. Installation will be at Centennial Park, Salem, Tuesday, July 16, with a covered dinner at 6:30 p.m.

'Down On The Farm'

News of Meetings, Helpful Hints For Farmers

Most Corn Now Planted

According to an Agricultural Department survey, Ohio farmers have planted 91 per cent of the corn and 75 per cent of the soybean acreage. Planting operations are less advanced in northwestern Ohio than elsewhere.

Progress in planting these two crops to mid-June is very similar to the 1956 season but is a week to ten days later than usual.

During the past week, rains frequently interrupted completion of planting of these two crops and also hindered cultivation of corn and soybeans, weed spraying and hay making.

Weed control in corn and soybeans is a problem in a number of areas where wet soil has prevented cultivation and spraying.

Grass silage harvest was a major activity during the week and some cuttings intended for hay were put in the silo because of rains. About 37 per cent of the first cuttings of alfalfa hay are completed with quality in a number of areas lowered by rains.

Development of the wheat crop continues very favorable and over 90 per cent is now headed. In southern counties, much of the wheat acreage is now turning or starting to turn.

Barley is ripening fast and a few fields of winter barley have been combined in southern Ohio.

Oat growth varies depending on time of planting. Production prospects are generally better on the oat acreage sown in late April and early May than on that sown earlier. Thirty per cent of the oat acreage is now headed. Rains during the past week were very beneficial to growing crops and pastures.

FIRST STEPS to place civil defense and disaster control efforts on a coordinated basis in rural Ohio are in the making.

Top officials in civil defense, agriculture, welfare, education and related agencies, at a meeting at Ohio State University last week, formed a statewide advisory committee to "coordinate activities of existing agencies and inform rural people of what to do in case of emergency."

The program will seek to aid rural people in protecting themselves by using appropriate available agencies against floods, storms, bombing attacks or other emergencies, according to W. B. Wood, director of the Agricultural Extension Service, who called the meeting.

The group set up a 9-man sub-committee which will meet within the next few weeks to formulate a program.

Members of the newly formed advisory committee include: Gen. Leo M. Kreber, adjutant general of Ohio and director of Civil Defense; Howard Cummins, Ohio Rural Electric Cooperative; D. B. Robinson, Agricultural Extension Service; S. L. Foster, Ohio State Firemen's association; Thane Durey, deputy director of Civil Defense for Ohio; R. A. Blackburn, Ohio Electric Utilities Institute; Paul E. Landis, Ohio Department of Education; Litta K. Roberson, Ohio Farm Bureau Federation; Helen Massengale, Ohio Department of Health; George R. Gist, Agricultural Extension Service.

SWEET POTATO production depends upon many different practices, but the maintenance of a large leaf area is necessary for high yields, says E. C. Wittmeyer, Ohio State University extension horticulturist.

Carbohydrates necessary for root enlargement are manufactured in the leaves. Eventually these food materials move to the root, Wittmeyer explains. Unlike Irish potatoes, very few insects and diseases damage sweet potato plants under Ohio conditions.

The sweet potato vines should not be pruned or cut in case they make a heavy growth. Removing the vines will reduce the yields, according to the horticulturist.

He suggests sweet potatoes be cultivated often enough to control weeds and maintain the ridge on which they are planted. Long vines should be moved several times during the early part of the growing season to prevent formation of roots except at the base of the plant. Rooting later in the season, after Aug. 15, will not be harmful, Wittmeyer says.

MULCHING the home garden helps control weeds, conserve moisture and, on sloping land, reduce water run-off, say Ohio State University extension horticulturists.

Surveys of accidents on farms show that the operation of farm machinery causes about one-third of the accidental deaths on the land. Next in order are fatalities from drownings, firearms, falls, animals and burns, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Old corn carryover next October is expected to amount to 1,450 million bushels, substantially more than the 1,165 million bushels carried over from last year, likely will continue above those of 1956, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Feeder cattle prices, supported by fewer calves and yearlings carried over from last year, likely will continue above those of 1956, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Soybean meal now makes up over half the total tonnage of high protein feeds. This year soybean meal will rank next to corn and oats in total tonnage of individual grains and concentrates fed to livestock, say Ohio State University extension economists.

PERSUADED — Gilbert Mann, former president of the Bakers' Union Local 100 in Chicago, is shown testifying in Washington, D.C., during the resumed Senate Labor Rackets Committee hearings. Mann said he resigned the post at gun point because, had he refused, "I probably would have got shot."

Carnival of Cookies Boasts Flavor Variety

Any time is open season on cookies. For afternoon snacks, teas or bridge parties, this imposing array of cookies has the variety of a carnival.

Flavors range from coconut and rich chocolate to the chewy flavor of red raspberries. Nuts contribute flavor and added crispness to one of the recipes.

Why not have a cookie baking some afternoon soon? Your family or your favorite date will be pleasantly surprised.

Jolly Jam Bars

1 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 cups flour, 1 cup chopped walnuts, few drops green food coloring, ½ cup strawberry or raspberry jam.

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and blend well. Gradually add the flour and mix thoroughly. Fold in chopped nuts. Divide the dough in half and tint one part green. Pat green dough evenly into cake pan.

Top with jam. Cover with uncolored dough. Bake in a preheated 325 degree oven 1 hour or until lightly browned. Cool. Cut into 36 bars.

Coconut Butter Balls

1 cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 cup finely chopped almonds.

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in vanilla, salt and flour. Add nuts and blend well. Chill the dough several hours or overnight. Shape into ¾-inch balls and roll them in white or colored coconut.

Place on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 15-18 minutes or until lightly browned. Place on cake racks to cool.

Orange Sugar Sticks

½ cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1½ cups flour, sifted, ¼ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon mace, 2 tablespoons of strained orange juice.

Frosting:

2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 2 tablespoons top milk, dash of salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 square semi-sweet chocolate, melted.

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg yolk and orange rind. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Chill for several hours or overnight.

Roll small pieces of chilled dough into sticks about as thick as a pencil and 2" long. Dip one side in granulated sugar and place sticks on a greased cookie sheet, sugar side up. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for about 10 minutes.

Be careful not to brown too much. Remove immediately from cookie sheet onto racks to cool.

Using a cake decorating tube filled with a thin chocolate confectioners' sugar icing, make curly Q's, strips, and various line designs on orange sticks.

The glass snake is not a snake, but a legless lizard. It gets its name from the fact that it looks like a snake and its tail breaks off as easily as glass, as well as the fact that it looks as if it were made of glass.

Cherries Give Patriotic Look

As red as the stripes in the flag, this luscious pie has the Fourth of July look. The recipe also has a romantic slant.

Mary Ann Barthomy, of Henrietta, N.Y., won a red cherry pie baking contest against 150,000 girls between 14 and 21. But this isn't the prize winning recipe. It's the one her favorite boy friend likes best.

Cherry Pie Web

Two No. 303 cans water-packed pitted red sour cherries, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon of mace, 2 tablespoons chopped almonds, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, red food coloring, pastry for 2-crust, 9-inch pie, 1 tablespoon butter.

Preheat oven (425 degrees F.). Drain cherries and reserve 1 cup juice. Mix sugar, tapioca, cornstarch, salt and mace in saucepan. Stir in the reserved cup of juice and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Add almonds, almond extract, cherries and a few drops of red coloring to make juice a good cherry red. Let mixture stand while preparing pastry. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Pour in cherry mixture and dot with butter. Arrange lattice of pastry strips on top. Bake 40-50 minutes.

Directions for Web Lattice Top
Roll our half of pastry into 12-inch circle. Cut 2 pastry circles ½ inch wide; 6½ and 4 inch in diameter, respectively. Cut single 2-inch circle for center. Roll and cut remaining pastry into ½-inch straight strips. Moisten outer rim of pastry in pie pan. Arrange some of the straight strips in a spoke design. Top with circles. Cover entire rim of pie with pastry strips and press down to seal ends of all strips firmly. Bake as above.

Try This Cool Cucumber Sauce

"Cool as a cucumber" is just what this smooth and subtle sauce is. It's perfect with salads of fresh garden vegetables molded in unflavored gelatin.

Cucumber Sauce
One-third cup mayonnaise or commercial sour cream; 2-3 cup finely diced cucumber; ¼ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon tabasco.

Mix together all ingredients. Serve with vegetable loaf. Yields 1 cup.

These molded vegetable salads can be made in the morning and kept in the refrigerator ready for the party or evening meal. To unmold, just dip the loaf pan into warm water for a few seconds and then turn onto serving plate. Serve sauce separately.

Jellied Vegetable Loaf
Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 3 cups water, divided; ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup lemon juice, ½ cup sliced radishes, ½ cup grated carrot, 2 cups finely shredded cabbage, ½ cup diced green pepper.

Sprinkle gelatin on 1 cup of the cold water in saucepan to soften. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat, add sugar and salt; stir until sugar is dissolved. Stir in remaining 2 cups water and lemon juice. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into 9x5x3-inch loaf pan; chill until firm. Unmold; serve with cucumber sauce. Yields 8 servings.

Curried Eggs on Rice Has Indian Flavor

For the cook who is looking for a new and delightful egg entree, this recipe for Curried Eggs on Rice should be just the thing.

The flavor lies in the curry sauce, secret of Indian cooking for untold years and fast becoming a favorite with more cosmopolitan appetites.

A good curry sauce often has a hint of orange rind and orange juice, as this one has. Almost every really good sauce has as its foundation a fresh table fat.

ATHLETE'S FOOT GERM HOW TO KILL IT. IN ONE HOUR
 If not pleased, your 40c back at any drug counter. This STRONG germicide sloughs off infected skin. Exposes more germs to its killing action. Use instant-drying T-4-L day or night. Now at Flooding & Reynard.

Margarine does the job perfectly as well as economically. Not only does margarine blend all of the flavors smoothly, but it contributes its own flavor and generous food value. It gives a sauce with that satiny sheen that is so important, to appetite appeal.

Curried food naturally calls for rice, hot and fluffy. Whether you use pre-cooked rice or the kind that needs longer cooking, be sure it is cooked so that each grain is separate. It not only looks prettier that way, but it is especially enjoyable to eat.

If you like, serve as many of the usual curry accompaniments as you wish. Pass small bowls of coconut, and chopped hard-cooked egg to sprinkle over each serving.

Many people like chutney with any curry, but chopped sweet-sour pickle or relish does just as well. A cooked green vegetable and a dish of crisp new radishes completes the menu.

Curried Eggs on Rice
 7 hard-cooked eggs, 4 tablespoons margarine (1/2 bar), 2 tablespoons minced onion, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/4 cup orange juice, 3 cups hot cooked rice, Parsley or watercress.

Garden Salad Has Honey Dressing

This Summer Garden Salad is designed to bring all the eye appeal of a blooming garden to the table. Arrange the fruits in whatever bouquet you please, and family and guests alike will applaud your versatility.

If you prefer using the canned fruits, you might combine peach and pear halves with orange slices and grapefruit sections, and garnish the result with mint leaves and maraschino cherries.

Or, if a variety of fresh fruits suits your fancy, why not use bananas sliced lengthwise, with peach slices for petals and fresh strawberries for rosebuds?

Whatever your fancy, the dressing used in the salad will add delightful flavor to the dish. It combines honey and lemon juice (this keeps the fruits from turning brown in addition to adding flavor), for a new and appealing taste.

Summer Garden Salad
 1 1/2 cups shredded lettuce leaves, 4 cups seasonal fruits, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1/2 cup pure uncooked honey, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon finely chopped, unsalted nuts.

With a fork or in an electric blender, blend cottage cheese with 1/4 cup honey and lemon juice.

In a salad bowl on a nest of lettuce place cottage cheese mixture. Sprinkle with nuts. Add fruits such as strawberries, peaches, apples, pineapples, etc. Pour remaining honey over fruits. Serves 4.

Boston Evens Series By Blanking Cleveland 6-0

Indians Get Only Five Hits

Garcia Goes Down To Fourth Defeat

BOSTON (AP)—Just as they hurt for pitching during their home stand earlier this month, the Cleveland Indians are now hurting for catchers as the rubber game of their first series in an Eastern trip comes up today.

Jim Hegan, first string backstop, is out for about 10 days with a pulled leg muscle, and his alternate, Hal Naragon, turned up Wednesday with a fractured finger. An X-ray showed a fracture at the first joint of the right index finger which stopped a foul tip in the second inning of the game here Tuesday night. Naragon may be out three weeks.

So rookie third-stringer Russ Nixon will catch Early Wynn today as the Indians' ace right-hander goes after his ninth victory against seven losses. Dave Sisler (4-3), loser of one duel with Wynn earlier this season, will pitch for the Boston Red Sox.

The Sox evened the current series and their season's record against Cleveland by blanking the Tribe 6-0 Wednesday. Long Frank Sullivan allowed the Indians only five hits, two of them doubles by Rocky Colavito. He fanned six and walked only two.

Mike Garcia was nicked for four runs in the fourth inning and went down to his fourth defeat against two victories. The final two Boston runs were homers by Jim Piersall off Garcia in the fifth and by Sammy White off Stan Pitula in the seventh.

The Red Sox four-run rally opened when Billy Klaus singled. Mickey Vernon also got a single on a pop fly the wind blew over second baseman Bob Avila's head. Jackie Jensen singled Klaus home and Frank Malzone clubbed a two-run double over centerfield Roger Maris' head. The wind carried Ted Lepcio's pop fly to short center off course for a single that drove in the fourth run.

The Indians' shortage of catchers became critical in the second inning when a foul tip hit Nixon in the groin. Dick Williams came in from left field ready to replace Nixon, but after resting on the ground a few minutes, Nixon was able to continue.

At Manager Kerby Farrell's request, catcher Dick Brown was recalled from Omaha in the American Assn. as a replacement for Naragon. Brown, a high school battery mate of Herb Score at Lake Worth, Fla., batted .286 and hit 24 home runs for Mobile in the Southern Assn. last season and was batting .295 at Omaha. He will join the Indians here.

A freak accident in the ninth inning Wednesday felled Maris, but the rookie outfielder was not hurt seriously. X-rays showed later. White was returning the ball to Sullivan and the catcher's throw struck Maris above the left ear.

White said it was the first time he ever had hit a batter in returning the ball to the pitcher.

Maris was stunned and developed "a terrible headache."

Reds Get 4-3 Win Over Bums

Bob Thurman Raps Pinch-Hit Homer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Thurman of the Cincinnati Redlegs may never be a regular day-by-day major league outfielder but he's a one-man wrecking crew as a pinch hitter.

And if the Brooklyn Dodgers feel they're being haunted by a former teammate, they know his name—Don Hoak.

Those two combined their home run hitting talents Wednesday night to give Cincinnati a 4-3 victory over the Dodgers.

Thurman blasted a pinch hit home run with one on. It was the fourth time this season he has come through with a homer while appearing as a pinch hitter. He has a total of eight homers for the season.

Hoak, who formerly played with the Dodgers and then the Chicago Cubs with little or no batting success, got the game-winning two-run homer. It was the fourth he has hit against the Brooks this season. He has a total of 10.

Thurman is a big fellow of questionable age, listed as 34, who came up to the Reds in 1955. Pinch hitting has been his major duty although he has had several cracks at playing regularly.

On those occasions his hitting has slumped off and it would be back to pinch hitting and back to solid slugging.

His current batting average is .281. Eight of his 18 hits have been home runs.

The tight pitching duel between Tom Aker and Don Drysdale Wednesday night was something to behold for five innings.

At that time Aker had allowed only one hit and Drysdale three. Aker was the first to yield to the hitters.

The Dodgers got to him for three runs in the sixth on a single by Junior Gilliam, a sacrifice, a single by Duke Snider and then Elmer Valo's home run.

Drysdale stayed out of trouble until the seventh. By that time he had allowed four hits, but Frank Robinson opened that frame with a double. Wally Post fanned, but Thurman then came through with his home run. Ted Kluszewski turned boos to cheers when he came through with a pinch hit double that brought Clem Labine in to relieve Drysdale.

Drysdale got Johnny Temple but Hoak then cracked his homer. Gus Bell followed with another double but it was wasted as George Crowe grounded out.

Except for those two scoring outbursts the pitchers were in complete control although the Reds managed to get men on second and third with one out in the fifth. They failed to score.

Tonight's pitchers are to be Roger Craig for the Dodgers and Brooks Lawrence for the Redlegs.

Philadelphia Court Awards Hogan $5,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Golfer Ben Hogan was awarded $5,000 damages Wednesday against a New York publishing company which portrayed his technique in a book, "Golf with the Masters," brought out two years ago.

Judge Peter F. Hagan of Common Pleas Court ruled that A. S. Barnes and Company had "misappropriated" Hogan's property rights "in the commercial value of his name and photograph." Hogan said he had not authorized Barnes to use text and illustrations pertaining to his style.

The judge decided that the book, written by Dave Cameron, created "unfair competition" for Hogan's own book, "Power Golf," which, it was noted, has earned nearly $63,000 in royalties, a substantial part of his estimated million dollar income since 1937.

Columbus Attorney Wins Golf Event In Sudden-Death Round

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Playoffs to decide golf championships are becoming as common as dandelions in Ohio.

The fourth extra-hole event in 10 days on Buckeye courses was chalked up Wednesday as Hamilton (Hammy) Hedges, 44-year-old Columbus attorney, won the state Pre-Seniors laurels for players in their 40s in a three-hole sudden death session.

The 118-pounder did it the hard way. He sank a 25-foot birdie putt on the second extra hole, and a five-footer for a birdie on the third, to outshoot M. E. (Bud) Gilligan of Columbus, a sporting goods dealer, and Ed Preisler of Cleveland, the 1946 state amateur champion.

The trio had tied at 150, six over par for the 36 regulation holes over Columbus Country Club's 6,500-yard par 72 course. A week ago Sunday the Rubber City Open $22,000 tourney needed six extra holes to determine a winner. Last Tuesday the State Junior meet at Lima went one extra hole, and Sunday the National Open at Toledo went 18 holes beyond the prescribed limit.

The outcome gave Hedges the laurels in the 40-44 age bracket, with Dick Ryhan of Columbus, 1941 State Public Links champion, second with 151. Gilligan copped the 45-49 title and Preisler was second, each with 150.

Dr. Earl Pinnell of Dayton, last year's champion, soared to 81 in the second round after firing a 71, the tournament's best, in the opener.

The tournament, sponsored by the Ohio Golf Assn., is limited to players who have passed their 40th birthday and haven't touched 50. It was set up to give a competitive chance to those getting Hitting Ernie Banks, Walt Moryn, Cubs each connected for two home runs in 9-0, 4-3 doubleheader sweep over Phillies, belting back-to-back shots to bring Bruins from behind in nightcap eighth.

The St. Louis Cardinals have three accepted shortstops starting and finishing games this season. They are Alvin Dark, Don Blasingame and rookie Eddie Kasko. Don has been on second and Eddie on third.

ONE THING Gerry Partlow, manager of the BLACK DIAMOND RODEO is proud of and that is the TOUGHEST WILD HORSES and CATTLE IN AMERICA. The best Cowboys are entered in the big Rodeo, and they will contest one against the other for points toward the Championship, but with big, husky Wild Horses many a first-rate Cowboy will go headed for the ground as Archie Allerton does in this picture. The Rodeo, with 38 thrilling events, plus RIN TIN TIN, Lieut. Rip Masters, Sandy, the Indian, and the whole T.V. Troupe will be at the AKRON RUBBER BOWL, 8 p.m. SUNDAY, JULY 14.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

State technicians have identified the strange goose seen at Lake Guilford as being an Egyptian goose as I had suspected. It is an escapee.

One thing is sure he won't make it back to Egypt without a hitch—like on some boat.

Last week, fish technicians killed off the little green sunfish in certain areas in Zephernik Lake. Using a fish-tox that suffocates fish, naturally some bluegills and bass were also killed. It is necessary to sacrifice all kinds of fish in order to get at the undesirable. It was better to kill the sunfish right when they were on their spawning beds.

This operation is being carried on at several lakes in this district which is just a good part of fish management. Nothing to be alarmed about as there are plenty of brood stock left and hundreds of bluegills and bass left in the fingerling class.

THE VALVES HAVE BEEN closed at Guilford and it is just a matter of how much rainfall occurs before the lake will be back to normal water stage.

As expected this time of the year the "coon-nappers" are busy. I have had to pick up many of them when well-meaning people pick them up along the highway or in the wooded areas saying the mother was killed or the babies had been abandoned, and then call me for a permit to keep them.

This is against the law and I have no authority to go against the laws as they exist on the statute books. The penalty provided is from $15 to $200 and it is my duty to enforce the laws when people pick up these animals and make no effort to notify me that such animals need human assistance.

Another warning. Baby skunks in the wilds are also protected by law and any person caught "skunk napping" and having some veterinarian remove the only weapon of self-defense from these beneficial little grub and mouse eaters are also protected by the same law.

Had a call from the William Whitaker home in Salem on Fair View Ave. that the skunks were creating a nuisance. I managed to capture three of the babies but the mother crawled under a rock pile. She will have to be dealt with accordingly.

In the meantime two of the babies died and the third one is doing nicely. In fact little "Petunia" went out into society and was used for educational purposes at the recent Garden Club exhibit at Damascus. Soon be able to shift for himself.

To sum up this animal situation, think what would happen if people were allowed to take any little bird or animal found in the wilds! It is a simple matter to capture skunks, raccoon, pheasants, quail, rabbits and even an occasional little fawn. If we had no laws protecting them there would be no reproduction left when hunting season rolls around.

Wild animals are happy in the wilds. If you have any of these animals in custody you had better notify the nearest game protector. And when the protector is fore-ed to take them from you don't protest too long and loud as he has every right to give you a citation into the nearest court. In fact it is his duty and not how he feels about the matter.

Pitching Bob Buhl, Braves; Dick Drott, Cubs — Buhl won his seventh, cracked Braves' losing string at three games with third consecutive four-hitter in 6-0 victory over Giants; Drott won his sixth, struck out eight with three-hit first game's shutout in 9-0, 4-3 doubleheader sweep over Phillies.

St. Louis Cardinals Sweep Two From Pirates 5-2, 5-1

Yanks Rip Tigers 10-2; Braves Trounce Giants

By The Associated Press

Okay, so the St. Louis Cardinals look great, just half a game out of the National League lead. But you've got to split the credits between a long streak and a short memory.

They hustled to 20 victories in the last 27 games, winning 13 of the last 16, and jumped from sixth, 8½ games behind, to within seven percentage points of the first-place Milwaukee Braves. Trouble is, they were only three points out of the lead at this stage a year ago—then went into a late-June swoon that dumped them out of the race for a fourth-place finish, 17 games behind.

The Red Birds moved in on the Braves Wednesday night, sweeping Pittsburgh 5-2 and 5-1 in a two-night double-header as Milwaukee's Bob Buhl cut the Braves' skid at three games with his third consecutive four-hitter in a 6-0 victory over the New York Giants.

Cincinnati ended its four-game slump, coming from behind on home runs to beat Brooklyn 4-3, leaving the Redlegs and Dodgers two games behind with the Braves in third place by two percentage points. Philadelphia slipped to fifth, 2½ behind, with a twin loss at Chicago, 9-0 and 4-3.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox held on to a 2½-game lead with a 3-1 decision at Baltimore after the second place New York Yankees had upped their winning streak to six games. Third place Cleveland lost 6-0 at Boston. Kansas City joined Baltimore in a 10-2 breeze against Detroit, more in sixth place, rallying in the ninth to defeat Washington, 6-3.

The Cardinals, a surprising 24-10 road club, gained a 9-14 record at home with their fifth doubleheader sweep of the year (they won only four all last season).

Sam Jones won his fourth in the Cardinal opener, striking out 10 and limiting the Bucs to only four hits after the first inning. The Cards broke a 2-all tie with three in the seventh. Hobie Landrith's double drove home the winner and Joe Cunningham then packed it away with a two-run pinch homer as Ron Kline lost his 10th.

Wally Moon swatted a two-run homer as the Redbirds scored three in the nightcap first against Bob Purkey. Stan Musial hit his 15th homer and stretched his hitting streak to 19 games as young Lindy McDaniel won his seventh.

Buhl got a quick lead as Henry Aaron matched Yankee Mickey Mantle for the major league homer lead with his 19th in the third inning. Wes Covington added a three-run homer in the fifth. Ruben Gomez, who has won nine, lost his fourth.

Both Redleg homers were two-run jobs in the seventh, with Bob Thurman delivering his fourth pinch-hit shot ahead of Don Hoak's clincher. Tom Acker won his seventh, shutting out the Braves until they scored three in sixth, two on Elmer Valo's home run.

Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn, each belting two home runs for the day, connected for successive wallop in the nightcap eighth to win for young Moe Drabowsky. Rookie Dick Drott won his sixth with a three-hitter and eight strikeouts in the opener.

Two walks and RBI singles by Jim Rivera and Bubba Phillips produced two second-inning runs for the White Sox, who were out-hit 9-6. Bob Keegan won it. Art Ceccarelli was the loser.

The Yankees went on a 15-hit tear against seven-game winner Duke Maas and two Tiger relievers with Yogi Berra hitting a three-run homer and Gil McDougald poking a two-run home run. Tom Sturdivant won his sixth.

Frank Sullivan blanked the Indians on five hits, beating Mike Garcia as the Red Sox, who had lost four in a row, scored four in the fourth, two on Frank Malzone's double. Jimmy Piersall and Sammy White homered for Boston.

Virgil Trucks won his sixth in relief for the A's, breaking a 3-all tie with an RBI single. Ex-Yankee Billy Martin then hit a two-run homer.

Shutout Hurlled By Dick Drott

Cub Pitcher Hikes Strikeouts To 72

CHICAGO (AP) — If the Chicago Cubs somehow stumble out of the National League wilderness, a kid pitcher may lead them.

That would be 20-year-old Dick Drott, who Wednesday hurled the season's first shutout by a Cub pitcher and raised his strikeout total to 72, tied for the league lead with Philadelphia's Jack Sanford.

Drott's three-hitter for a 9-0 victory which started a Cub sweep of a twin bill against the Phils gave the surprising right-hander a 6-6 record in his freshman big league season and his fourth in pro ball.

Drott, who celebrates his 21st birthday on July 1, is making his first major league chance a very serious business and a delight for manager Bob Scheffing.

For instance, Drott Wednesday cooled off after his white-washing of the Phils in which he fanned eight in the first game. Then he donned his uniform again and sat on the bench as the Cubs whipped the Phils, 4-3, in the nightcap.

Scheffing had high praise for Drott's "pitching sense."

"I think he has better control now than when I had him at Los Angeles last season," said Scheffing. "And this season, with a few breaks, his record now could be 9-3 instead of 6-6."

Drott has a "live" fast ball, a fine curve and a change-up he uses with his curve. Drott's six victories represent roughly one-third of the Cubs' 19 wins to date.

Drott came to the Cubs' Mesa, Ariz., training camp last spring just "one of the boys from Los Angeles." He got his chance in an exhibition against the New York Giants and hurled a two-hitter.

"I had the feeling everybody thought I was too young to make the big league grade," said Drott. "I was determined to give everything I had in this chance."

WIN IN G LEAGUE

Mount's Tin Shop in the Class G League added three victims to their list last week, defeating Wilms, 18-3; Gordon Leather, 3-2, and the Knights of Columbus, 19-0.

Kaiser Edges Bloomberg's 3-2; Kenmar, Homeworth Victors

By MARK MILLER

Kaiser edged Bloomberg's 3-2, Kenmar nipped Hanoverton 9-7 in a slugfest, and Homeworth clipped Sekely 13-4 in city softball games at Kelley Park last night.

In the third inning with two men out, Kaiser began to move. Hammett reached first base on an error, Huffman walked, and Logue singled to left field, scoring Hammett and Huffman. Both runs were unearned.

Bloomberg's cut the deficit in the top of the fourth. R. Stanley singled, and Klein rolled out third to first, with Stanley moving up to second. Shaffer was safe on an error and Stanley scored.

In the bottom of the fifth, Kaiser scored their final tally. Logue walked, Turney walked, and Pratt singled, scoring Logue.

Bloomberg's scored their final run in the seventh frame.

R. Fowler paced the losers with two hits in four trips to the plate. Logue, Pratt and Dean Ray got Kaiser's only hits.

Although out-hit, Kenmar cashed in on the ineffective infolding and outfield playing of Hanoverton players who committed six costly errors, compared with none for the winners.

With the score deadlocked 7-7 going into the bottom half of the fourth, Kenmar put together a triple by Munyon and a double by Huda which proved to be the winning margin.

Huda rapped out two hits in four trips to lead the Kenmar attack, and Davis paced the losers with two for four.

Homeworth got only eight hits, but Sekely made nine errors which contributed to the victor's big score. Sekely managed only four hits.

Homeworth scored four runs in the top of the first and were never headed thereafter. They tallied one more in the second, three in the fourth, and five in the sixth.

Clark paced the victors with a perfect night at the plate, rapping out two successive hits.

Salem Polo Team Beats Darlington

The Salem Polo Club won their first match of the season, downing the Darlington, Pa., riders 14-12 on the Darlington field before some 400 persons Wednesday night.

A balanced attack and fine riding and shooting enabled the Salem team to eke out a victory over the hard riding Darlington squad, who battled right down to the wire.

Paul Powers and Jim Watson each tallied four goals for Salem, and Lloyd Brunner scored three. Phil Thompson scored two and Ronnie Tetelmanzi, one.

Three Darlington riders tallied three goals apiece. They are Bob Watterson, Mike Campf, and Keith Watterson. Wayne Watterson scored two, and Glen Tetelmanzi, one.

Salem held a 3-1 lead at the end of the initial chukker, Darlington fought back with five goals in the second chukker to take a 6-4 lead over Salem.

At halftime the score was tied 7-7 but Salem grabbed the lead again in the fourth frame 9-7.

In the fifth canto the losers tied it up 10-10, but Salem tallied four goals to two for Darlington in the final chukker to win.

Denver—Joe Brown, 134½, New Orleans, stopped Orlando Zulueta, 133½, Havana, 15. (Brown retained world lightweight championship.)

Joe Brown Scores TKO Over Zulueta

DENVER (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, winner by a 15th-round technical knockout over Orlando Zulueta, shopped around today for pork chops and some overweight matches to cash in on his title.

Brown knocked the bobbing Cuban to the canvas in the 13th round for a nine count and finished him off with a flurry of rights a scant 21 seconds before the end of the nationally televised title fight Wednesday night.

Referee Ray Keech was roundly booed by the crowd of 3,686 in the Denver Coliseum for stopping the bout. Zulueta got up at the count of eight after his second knock-down.

"I asked Zulueta if he was all right when he got up," Keech said. "He only mumbled. His eyes were glassy and I thought there was no use in taking a chance that he might be seriously injured."

"That was the loudest decision I ever saw in my life," wailed Zulueta's manager Hymie Wallman.

"I felt fine," said the downcast 28-year-old challenger in his dressing room. "My head was clear. I wasn't a bit dizzy."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There are no cut-rate crusades. Indignation is inexpensive. If a lot of us hadn't been looking for low cost cures, we might have prevented a dose of "underworld lock-jaw" which a couple of fellows named G. and D. Miranti and Bando developed in federal court recently.

Victor Riesel

You may recall that they are two of the men who calmly confessed to conspiring to hurl acid at this columnist. When asked by Federal Judge Herlands to name the higher-ups, they clammed up and the judge angrily said they had a case of terror tetanus.

I have a personal interest in this so I looked into the prison system which the government charges the underworld reached into its lockjaw. I found a prison system understaffed.

I found a penal world lodged in comparative ancient dungeons costing less than $1,500 a prisoner when a modern prison can be built for as little as $15,000 to $20,000 a prisoner.

I FOUND a sprawling network of 29 federal institutions run on a budget of $30,135,000 by hard-working criminologists who are sometimes helpless to run an orderly civilization behind bars because the budget permits them only two guards for each 800 prisoners.

On this budget they have now discarded the traditional bread-and-water diet for prisoners in solitary confinement — and the inmate's health is now protected by a balanced diet of vegetables, it may come as news to you.

But the prisoner who may find himself in a "solitary" cell because he has cooperated with the authorities and wants the protection of sleeping alone, is not just worried about keeping food alive. There are only enough single cells for 10 per cent of the prisoners.

Old Films Boon To Viewers In Summer

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the old movies are a boon to inveterate TV viewers in this dull summer season. To be perfectly fair about it, there are some dreadful old movies. They don't seem to have quibbled much over authenticity when making movies in Hollywood back in the 1930's.

But there was plenty of fun — and, thanks to TV, there's still fun. Probably I'm getting old, or jaded, but it seems to me they don't make movies these days as uncritically comic as "Bringing Up Baby," starring Cary Grant and Katharine Hepburn (vintage 1938).

Broad, yes. Slapstick, definitely. But very fast. They pulled out all the stops and let her roar. Improbable and even impossible, it doesn't especially matter. Hepburn and Grant and Charles Ruggles and Barry Fitzgerald and May Robson seemed to be having a good time. So I had a good time too.

Perhaps the best thing about an old movie on TV is that you don't anticipate much good in it. You suspend hope before you turn it on, and so you suspend your critical faculties. Thus, whatever good you find in an old movie comes as a pleasant surprise.

Whether or not you've seen the movie before doesn't matter. In fact, I seldom can remember whether I've seen it.
